

Andy Warhol made this series of sixteen paintings, fifteen included in this exhibition. While all are on canvas and of the same size, some are only silkscreened. Others appear to have had additional paint applied by hand. The paintings were stretched in his studio at the time, yet never exhibited or sold during his lifetime, and therefore remain unsigned. The one painting not included in this exhibition is illustrated in the catalogue "Andy Warhol Abstract" (Prestel-Verlag, 1993), on page 15. Each painting is stamped on the reverse and accompanied by a certificate of authenticity from the Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts, Inc.
