

artnet news

ART WORLD

Editors' Picks: 9 Art Events to See in New York This Week

Here's one way to beat the heat.

Margot Bergman, Wilma Rose (2012). Courtesy of Anton Kern Gallery, New York and Corbett vs. Dempsey, Chicago.

9. Margot Berman and Brian Calvin: Early Work at Anton Kern Gallery

If, like me, you have been seeing all the intriguing Instagram posts emanating from Anton Kern Gallery's joint Margot Berman and Brian Calvin show, but have not yet made it to 20th Street space, now is your chance. The exhibit, which has been extended through next Friday, August 26, pairs Berman's recent portraits with Calvin's "Popeye" series, made in Chicago in the early 1990s. Both artists portray the human figure "and all its grotesque facets," according to the gallery, while also showing the spirit of Chicago's signature Neo-Expressionist style, namely heavily layered and worked paint that tends toward dramatic, emotional color palettes.

Location: Anton Kern Gallery, 532 West 20th Street, New York

Price: Free

Time: Monday–Friday, 10:00 a.m.–6:00 p.m.

—Eileen Kinsella