Opening: "Anne Collier" at Anton Kern Gallery

Fresh off trendy group exhibitions about experimental photography at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art and the Guggenheim Museum, Anne Collier returns to the gallery scene with new photographic works that feature close-ups of crying women culled from the covers of record albums, dating from the late-1960s to the early-1980s. These new pieces exploring fabricated emotions are accompanied by the artist's signature still life pictures of open books, women with cameras and old record albums that smartly investigate issues of representation and perception.
